What do I need to know about cookies?

Page updated: 13 May 2018

Cookies are small pieces of data that are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website or application.

We use them to

- Remember information about you, so you don't have to give it to us again.
- Help us understand how people are using our website, so we can make it better
- Help us personalise the Fontana Design website to you by remembering your preferences and settings.

There are different types of cookies

First Party Cookies: These cookies are set by the website you're visiting. And only that website can read them.

Third Party Cookies: These cookies are set by someone other than the owner of the website you're visiting. Some Fontana Design web pages may also contain content from other sites like YouTube, which may set their own cookies. Also, if you share a link to a Fontana Design page, the service you share it on (for example, Facebook) may set a cookie on your browser. We have no control over third-party cookies - you can turn them off, but not through us.
